Subject: Great effort

Good evening,

It is now 10:20 pm and I am finally getting to close up my day at work in a hotel room and respond to all 40+ emails from this morning.

I will ask you all to slow down on answering and sending out emails that need full attention of the board.

Please call me to discuss my views and then send an email with a solution to avoid a long email chain.

I have found in my business that sometimes these emails are counter productive to the real issues.

I fully trust every ones judgment but sometimes our personal feelings cloud a true business decision.

I have plenty of windshield time and can discuss many of these issues with any of our owners or board members.

I am glad to see the enthusiasm, this is what will set us apart from previous boards.

I am concerned that Cathy has not reached out to me to share her views in a positive manner. I encourage everyone's opinion that were elected to the board. This is what will set us apart and help pave the way for a unified community!

Rick
